Building Brains – Lego Engineering I (ages 3-5)

Building brains uses LEGO Duplo and K’NEX educational kits to BUILD math and science skills. These educational building kits have specially designed gears and pulleys that teach students to build simple machines that really work. Our students will BUILD simple machines while BUILDING fine motor skills and confidence. Classes are designed to reinforce classroom curriculum. Students use colors, sizes and shapes to correctly build a simple machine and then perform a scientific experiment to see how it works. In each class students will build a new and exciting machine and watch it work! Literacy skills are improved by memorizing poems with hand motions about gears, levers and pulleys to reinforce how they work and what they do. Classes are progressive and BUILD on one another. This is the next Generation of Critical thinking toys! We wrap our hands and our head around a problem.
